

Peregrine Performance Group Announces Business Development Partner, Brett Gosch

North Bay Performance Consulting Firm Strengthens Resources

Santa Rosa, CA – Peregrine Performance Group (www.peregrinepg.com) announced that they have partnered with veteran learning-industry consultant Brett Gosch to assist them in their ongoing business development efforts.

Brett Gosch has over twenty-years of learning industry consulting experience as an instructional designer, eLearning developer, and relationship manager. He has worked with JDEtips, TIA, Newdea, Avaya and IBM.

About Peregrine Performance Group

Peregrine Performance Group (PPG) is a full service provider of training consulting services (www.peregrinepg.com). Led by learning-industry veterans, Russ Powell and Joe Halpin, PPG is known for expertise in performance-based instructional design, eLearning design and development, eLearning project management, facilitation of face-to-face and synchronous online training programs (e.g., instructional webinars), instructional media development, evaluation of eLearning programs, and job-aid development. They serve global organizations and North Bay businesses.

Contact

Peregrine Performance Group

Russ Powell, Public Relations

russ@peregrinepg.com
